DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-11 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because in the state of the art, transitory signals are commonplace as a medium for transmitting computer instruction and thus, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary and give the broadest reasonable interpretation, the scope of a "computer readable medium" covers a signal per se.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 12-15, 21-42 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

The prior art of record fails to disclose, suggest, or teach the following limitation “A playlist area storing at lease one playlist file including a plurality of playitems, representing the playing interval of the clip, the playitem indicating a presentation start time and presentation end time based on a time axis of the clip wherein the playitem in the playlist is a unit to be randomized or shuffled during random/shuffle reproduction”.
